Tripartite Declaration of Principles concerning Multinational Enterprises and Social Policy (MNE Declaration)

Questionnaire for governments in preparation for the special MNE Declaration session during the 10th European Regional Meeting

The ILO Tripartite Declaration of Principles concerning Multinational Enterprises and Social Policy (MNE Declaration) was adopted in 1977 and updated in 2000 and 2006.

At the outset the MNE Declaration underscores that “through international direct investment and other means multinational enterprises can bring substantial benefits to home and host countries by contributing to the more efficient utilization of capital, technology and labour” (paragraph 1).

The aim of the MNE Declaration is “to encourage the positive contribution which multinational enterprises can make to economic and social progress and to minimize and resolve the difficulties to which their various operations may give rise” (paragraph 2).

“This aim will be furthered by appropriate laws and policies, measures and actions adopted by governments and by cooperation among the governments and employers’ and workers’ organizations of all countries” (paragraph 3).

As such the MNE Declaration sets out “principles in the fields of employment, training, conditions of work and life and industrial relations which governments, employers’ and workers’ organizations and multinational enterprises are recommended to observe on a voluntary basis” (paragraph 7).

“Multinational enterprises should take fully into account established general policy objectives of the countries in which they operate. Their activities should be in harmony with the development priorities and social aims and structure of the country in which they operate. To this effect, consultations should be held between multinational enterprises, the government and, wherever appropriate, the national employers’ and workers’ organizations concerned.” (paragraph 10).

As defined in paragraph 6 of the MNE Declaration “Multinational enterprises include enterprises, whether they are of public, mixed or private ownership, which own or control production, distribution, services or other facilities outside the country in which they are based”.

The policy recommendations in the MNE Declaration are addressed to governments of home and host countries of multinational enterprises, employers’ and workers’ organizations and multinational enterprises and reflect good practices for domestic and foreign enterprises operating in a country.

The full text of the MNE Declaration can be accessed via www.ilo.org/mnedeclaration and the e-learning tool on the MNE Declaration via www.ilo.org/mnelearning. The International Training Center of the ILO will organize the course “Multinational enterprises, development and decent work: the approach of the ILO MNE Declaration” from 8 to 12 May 2017. For more information and registration please contact multi@ilo.org.

At its 320th session (March 2014), the ILO Governing Body adopted a new follow-up mechanism on the MNE Declaration, comprised of promotional activities and an information gathering mechanism. The information gathering mechanism, which is linked to the ILO Regional Meetings, includes a short questionnaire to collect information directly from governments and employers’ and workers’ organizations in the ILO member States where the ILO Regional Meeting will take place.

The short questionnaire will serve to collect country-level experiences on harnessing opportunities and addressing challenges related to Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) and MNE activities for Decent Work, along the lines of the principles of the MNE Declaration. It will also serve to facilitate knowledge-sharing on this topic among the ILO tripartite constituents.

On the basis of the inputs received from governments and employers’ and workers’ organizations, the International Labour Office will prepare a short report which will serve as the basis for a discussion by the tripartite delegates during the Regional Meeting. The exact format of such a discussion will be decided at the time of setting the programme for the Regional Meeting.

In preparation of the 10th European Regional Meeting (Istanbul, Turkey, 2-5 October 2017), questionnaires are being sent by the International Labour Office directly and simultaneously to the Governments and Employers’ and Workers’ organizations of the participating ILO member States.

We kindly invite you to fill out the questionnaire below and return by 17 March 2017 by mail to:
